The Villa Aphrodite enjoys a quiet beachside position, within a cluster of villas, just 1 minute's walk by track to the beautiful undeveloped 2km beach. As this beach is hidden away it rarely gets busy, and when the visitors leave, you could have it all to yourselves. 2 local beach tavernas (from 600m) are conveniently walking distance.

There are breath-taking far reaching sea views towards both the Akamas National Park and Chrysochou Bay towards Pomos. The upstairs balcony overlooking the sea is a lovely spot for breakfast or evening drinks whilst watching the sunset, enjoying the changing colours of the Akamas hills, and if you are lucky, you may experience a moonrise over the sea.

This villa has a well equipped kitchen, a handy downstairs WC, king size double bed, beautiful unique wooden staircase and pretty garden secluded by a thick hedge. The pool terrace has sea views and you can enjoy meals alfresco in complete privacy.

Excellent waterfront fish restaurants can be sampled at Latchi Marina (2.3km), along with a small selection of shops and supermarkets. You can hire a small boat with cool box or take a mini cruise, at our discounted rates.

The Baths of Aphrodite and start of the Akamas National Park with its crystal clear blue lagoon and variety of walking trails is 2.3km.

Despite being a town, Polis (5km) has retained the relaxed feel of a village, with an interesting mix of old and new, and has a wide variety of shops and restaurants.

The location of this homely villa is quiet and private yet not isolated, and ideal for couples and small families. As many of our bookings are for 2 persons, we have reduced the web rates, so they apply for 2. Children up to 16 years can be included at no extra charge.

LOCAL AREA

This area of coastline is where people come to sample a fish meze, find the hidden undeveloped beaches, view the Baths of Aphrodite or visit the beautiful wild Akamas National Park with its crystal clear Blue Lagoon and variety of walking trails. The Baths of Aphrodite is the start of the Akamas National Park, (5 minutes' drive), and there is free parking, and if you are lucky you will see the resident donkey. The small beach here was improved in 2015, and is situated below the Baths of Aphrodite fish tavern run by Dinos. The far reaching coastal views are magnificent, the sea clear enough for snorkelling, and there are sun loungers, showers and WC. The Baths of Aphrodite tavern is a romantic location in the evening too, being off the beaten track and the only building here. The nightlife consists of night birds swooping around catching insects that are attracted to the spotlights, and you may be lucky enough to see the headlights of scuba divers below too, as they practise night dives here due to the clear water.

Yiannakis beach tavern is 600m and Takkas beach tavern is 1km from the villa, and they serve a variety of seafood and Greek specialities including kleftiko (slow cooked lamb). You can also just stop for a drink and enjoy the wonderful sea views or for a swim at the small beaches.

5 minutes' drive towards Polis brings you to the Latchi Marina, with its selection of shops and supermarkets, and renowned for the excellent water's edge fish tavernas (including clients favourite Y&P next to the pretty harbourmaster's house) where you may select your fish from the ice display. You can hire a small boat with cool box from Latchi, or take a relaxing mini cruise at our discounted prices to the beautiful turquoise clear waters of the Blue Lagoon.

Despite being a town, Polis (5km) has retained the relaxed feel of a village, and there are many locals as well as tourists. It offers an interesting mix of old and new, and a wide variety of shops including Papantoniou supermarket, restaurants (including clients' favourites Arsinoe Fish Tavern, lively Moustakallis Tavern and serene In Town Restaurant) and ATM machines. You can find lots of easy parking and it is also a lovely place for a wander and shopping in the pedestrianised area.

Twilight is one of my favourite times here around the Square, with the changing colours of the old stone buildings housing the Cafes and restaurants. Waiters are busy dressing the outside tables, lighting tea lights, plumping up the cushions, offering happy hour drinks etc. A wonderful spot to enjoy the slow Cypriot pace of life, sit back and people watch.

I will send you lots more information on Cyprus before you go.
